ABSTRACT

This bibliography provides a list of sources for students, scholars, and librarians who want information about theses completed or in preparation at Canadian universities. The sources are presented under three headings: general bibliographies, theses lists by university, and specialized bibliographies. For monographic items, the author, title, and publishing information are recorded; for serial literature, the listing provides the title of the article, the periodical title, and the volume, number, and date. Specific disciplines covered are area studies, Canadian ethnic studies, communications, economics, education, forestry, geography, geology, history, language and literature, law, nursing, philosophy and religion, political science, public administration, psychology, sciences, and sociology and social work. PREFACE

The National Library receives a great many requests for Canadian theses by subject. We are conscious of the important role theses play in research and we hope that Theses in Canada: a guide to sources of information about theses completed or in preparation / Thèses au Canada: guide sur les sources documentaires relatives aux thèses complétées ou en cours de rédaction which arranges information about Canadian theses under subject, will fill a recognized gap in the reference literature.

Credit goes to Gwynneth Evans and Susan Jaques Bruchet of the General Reference and Bibliography Section, who identified the need for this guide and then spent a good deal of time, much of it outside regular working hours, in its compilation.

Flora E. Patterson,
Director,
Public Services Branch.

PRÉFACE

Tant le contenu de certaines demandes acheminées à la Bibliothèque nationale que l'importance des thèses sur le plan de la recherche, disent bien l'urgence de doter les listes de thèses canadiennes existantes d'une approche par sujet. C'est plus de raisons qu'il n'en fallut pour justifier la rédaction de Theses in Canada: a guide to sources of information about theses completed or in preparation / Thèses au Canada: guide sur les sources documentaires relatives aux thèses complétées ou en cours de rédaction et répondre du même coup, nous l'espérons, à un besoin réel pour ce type d'outil de référence.

Le mérite appartient à Gwynneth Evans et à Susan Jaques Bruchet - de la Section de la référence générale et de la bibliographie - qui, après avoir isolé la pertinence documentaire d'un tel guide, en colligèrent bien souvent les divers éléments après les heures habituelles de travail.

Flora E. Patterson,
Directeur,
Direction des services au public.

INTRODUCTION

Students, scholars and librarians in Canada and abroad regularly address requests to the National Library of Canada for lists of Canadian theses by subject. As there is no one place where such information can be found, this bibliography has been undertaken in order to provide them with a list of sources.

Theses in Canada: a guide to sources of information about theses completed or in preparation is presented under three headings: General Bibliographies; Theses Lists by University; and Specialized Bibliographies. It provides information on sources, monographic and serial, which record the theses literature written in partial fulfilment of the requirements for a graduate degree in Canadian universities. It does not include theses written by Canadians in universities abroad or theses on Canadian topics written in foreign universities by Canadians or others.

Each item in the bibliography has been examined. For each monograph, the author, title and publishing information are recorded; for serial literature, the title of the article, the periodical title and the volume, number and date are provided. In instances where theses are not reported in a regular issue of a periodical, the precise paging has been given. Information on theses found as part of a subject bibliography has also been noted under compiler, title of the section, title of the work, place and date of publication, and exact paging. In some bibliographies the theses are listed among other works.

It is hoped that this bibliography will be useful to students, scholars and librarians seeking access to the growing body of thesis literature submitted to Canadian universities. For an international bibliography of thesis literature, arranged by subject, researchers will do well to consult Guide to theses and dissertations: an international annotated bibliography of bibliographies by Michael M. Reynolds.

The compilers of this bibliography recognize the difficulty in making such a work comprehensive. They would appreciate receiving notice of errors and omissions.

INTRODUCTION

Du Canada et de l'étranger, étudiants, professeurs, chercheurs et bibliothécaires adressent, à la Bibliothèque nationale du Canada, de nombreuses demandes de listes de thèses par sujet. Comme il n'existe aucune source unique où puiser pareils renseignements, nous avons préparé, à leur intention, l'instrument de travail que voici: Thèses au Canada: guide sur les sources documentaires relatives aux thèses complétées ou en cours de rédaction, groupées de la façon suivante: Bibliographies générales; Listes de thèses par université; Bibliographies spécialisées.

La bibliographie renseigne les sources - qu'il s'agisse de monographies ou de périodiques - répertoriant les thèses soumises pour l'obtention d'un grade supérieur dans les universités canadiennes; elle ne comprend pas les thèses présentées par des Canadiens dans d'autres pays ou les thèses sur des sujets canadiens écrites dans d'autres pays par des Canadiens ou par des étrangers.

Chacun des documents de la bibliographie a été vérifié. Le lecteur trouve, pour chacune des monographies, auteur, titre, lieu et date de publication et, pour chaque périodique, titre de l'article, titre du périodique, date et numéro. Là où les thèses ne sont pas répertoriées dans un numéro régulier du périodique, la page exacte du numéro hors-série ou du supplément est indiquée. Le présent guide précise le compilateur, le titre de la section, le titre de l'ouvrage, le lieu et la date de publication et la pagination pour des bibliographies spécialisées répertoriant des thèses. Dans certaines de ces bibliographies, les thèses sont présentées alphabétiquement parmi d'autres ouvrages.

Nous osons espérer que cette bibliographie rendra service à tous ceux qui veulent se familiariser avec le nombre déjà considérable de thèses présentées aux universités canadiennes. Les chercheurs qui voudraient consulter une bibliographie internationale de thèses, par sujet, feraient bien de consulter Guide to theses and disservations: an international annotated bibliography of bibliographies, ouvrage de Michael M. Reynolds.

Nous nous rendons compte de l'énorme difficulté de réunir les éléments d'une bibliographie exhaustive et nous prions nos lecteurs de bien vouloir nous signaler les erreurs et les omissions qu'ils y relèveront.
